The recent cold weather in New Orleans has killed the bananas, turning the fruit from a brilliant green, to black.

are. She can make fourteen knots an hour.

A room woman and her child lately settled in a western city, and were greatly in need of food. The child seeing a chicken in the backyard, wanted to kill it, and have a pot-pie. "No, no," said the mother, "that would be wicked, and God would surely punish you." Then," said the youngster, looking up, "let's move back to New York; there ain't any God there."

ing ensued:
"Mamma, will you go to heaven when you

"Oh, yes, and I hope your papa will go,

"Well, I hope I'll go, too, or yon'll be lonesome."

"Oh, yes, and I hope your papa will go, too."

"Oh, no, papa can't go. He can't leave leave the store."

VALUE OF LAND IN PARIS.—A table published in the Moniteur shows that the nighest price of land in Paris is generally for places in the neighborhood of the theatres. Thus, the various sites near the Theatre Francais, either in the Rue Richelleu, the Avenue Napoleon, or the Place in front have fetched per square metre 1,050f. 1,200f and even 1,300f. Near the New Opera the figures have varied from 600f. to 1,040f., the new Yandeville from 1,000f. to 1,040f., the new Yandeville from 1,000f. to 1,040f.; the Galte from 450f. and upwards.

The Right Kind of Religion.—"I want," says Uncle Nick, and we all want a religion that not only bears on the sinfulness of sin, but on the rascality of lying and stealing—a religion that banishes all small stalls, pebbles from cotton bags, sand from sugar, chicory from coffee, alum from bread, lard from milk cans. The religion that is to advance the world, says Uncle Nick, "will not not all the bad ones at the bottom. It will not offer more baskets of foreign wines than the vineyards ever produced in bottles."

CURIOUS U. S. GOVERNMENT SULE.—One of the cases to be tried before the U. S. Circuit Court is one against Albert Cook, and others, the United States being plaintiff. Mr. Cook was Postmaster of his village, in Kendali County, for a time, but becoming tired of it, resigned his position; his resignation being accepted, orders were sent for him to send his postage stamps and accounts by express to headquarters. He did so, but shortly after received notice that timeself and bondsmen were implicated in a suit, he at once hurried to Chicago, and employing counsel, went to the court room and found that the Postmaster General had sued him for the eight cents. He further discovered that the cierk's cost had reached ten dollars, and the State Attorney's, five dollars, and that the Marshal was proparing to visit him at Kendall Count

The Cuna Sugar Chor.—The following is a complete record of the sugar produced in Cuba, and exported during the past year. Spence's report says:

"By basing our calculations on the total exports on sugar and molasses from the island, without taking into consideration the small stocks of these staples remaining at the close of the year, and the increase the home consumption has probably had, we find that the production of the cane in 1867 and that the production of the cane in 1897 gives a decrease of a little over 4 per cent, as compared with 1866, or 134 per cent, of moissees, which figures show that the sufficient pated deficit of the crops had been several times over-estimated in the course of the year. The total exports have been 1,449,169 boxes and 413,487 hopsheads of sugar, and 297,605 hogsheads of moissees, equal to 560,669 tons of sugar and 198,443 of moissees, against 1,454,975 boxes, and 435,637 hogsheads of moisses, equal to 545,636 tons and 296,808 tons, respectively, in 1895—making the total cane produce exported 724,112 tons, against 754,444 tons in 1896, of which amount 63,51 per cent, to the United States, 23,94 to Great Britain, 2,43 to North of Europe, 3,30 to France, 5,50 to Spain and Italy, and 2,23 to other countries."

other countries."

LORD STANLEY ON IRELAND.—Lord Stanley, among other British Ministers, was complimented on the 32d uit., with a public banquet, at which, he spoke of the unhappy state of Ireland as follows:

We have indeed, in that country, a strange and perplexing problem to solve. I suppose there never was a time when Englishmen of all parties and all classes were more anxious to give all reasonable satisfaction to Irish demands, and even as far as can be done without national injury, to humor the feelings and prejudices of the Irish people. The material condition of Ireland is not bad. Certainly, it is far above the average of what it has been in former years; the peasantry are better feel, better clothed, and better paid than they were twenty years ago. The more are better fed, better clothed, and better paid than they were twenty years ago. The more educated classes share absolutely, and without restriction, the advantages of Britlah citizenship. Nothing is wanted except a little peace and security for uncounted millions of British espital to pour into that country, as English wealth has poured into Scotland, and as it continues every day to pour into colonies that are separated from us by the breadth of the globe; yet it would be idle to deny that discontent is very widely spread, that disaffection is not unfrequent, and there is a portion of the population—I hope that not a considerable portion, who regard their connection with England as a burden rather than as a benefit. That is a miserable state of things; and yet when we look for a remedy, who is there that can give us an intelligible answer? I don't undertake to do it. Ali I venture to attempt is to throw outs few of things; and yet when we look for a remedy, who is there that can give us an intelligible answer? I don't undertake to do it. All I venture to attempt is to throw outs few hints, which, if they have no novelty, at least can do no harm. In the first place, don't let us disguise from ourselves the fact that there is a party—and it may be a considerable party—whom no possible concessions will satisfy. Those who go in for a separate national existence, or repeal of the Union, which practically comes to the same thing, are asking for what they never can obtain, and it is only true kindness to tell them so in plain terms. We will not allow the British Empire to be pulled to pieces in virtue of any fautastic theories, nor because some politicians may have talked unadvisedly about the escred cause of nationality as applied to other countries. Ireland and England are inseparable now and forever. Then, again, there is another cause of disturbance which we may fairly allow for as being likely to pass away of itself—I mean the return here of Irish-Americans who have taken part in the great civil war on the other side of the Atlantic. Every war, every great war, leaves behind it a residium of men unditted for peaceful pursuits, full of energy and courage, and reckless of life. Taken as a whole, and considering the number of forces engaged, I do not think the presence of not a few of them here. That is an inconvenience, which in the nature of things, will not continue.

WITH NEATNESS AND DISPATCH Miscellaneous Items.

The Captain of a ferryboat on a Western river, was asked by a frightened lady passen-senger, "If people were ever lost by these boats?" He gave the encouraging reply, "Not often, ma'am; we generally find them afterward by dragging the river."

The U.S. News of the Passific coast.

THE U. S. Naval force of the Pacific coast consists of two squadrons—the North Pacific and the South Pacific—composed of seventeen ships in active service, carrying one hundred and twenty-six guns, with an aggregate tomage of 17,032 tons.

A Powentful Iron-clas, called the King William, has just been finished in England for the Prussian government. She measures 6,000 tons, and carries a battery of twenty-six 300-pounders, all breech-leaders, capable of being fired as often as twice in a minute. She can make fourteen knots an hour.
